It is called preparation for an epic experience and a true quantum leap in human evolution. What will you do if all systems are broken down for a period of time? Are you prepared to live without a source of food supply or water? Have you considered that there may be very little or possibly no power at all? Nothing may work as it has in the past including our minds, at least in how they operate today! Learn step by step, the in-depth process beginning with the material and physical needs through the events until we reach the mind's impact. Walk through all aspects, from the external to the internal, to have a detailed understanding of the potential personal and global impacts.

Unity Consciousness: Emerging Pathways of the Soul, Ellie Drew ~ Wednesday, October 12

The Soul and your Bio-Suit each have their own Characteristics and Prime Directives, each attempting to accomplish its agenda within you. This tension pushes your personal evolution. How well you take care of the business of both agendas will determine: 1) your consciousness development; 2) your ability to live your life purpose NOW as part of an emerging Unity Consciousness, not as passive participants but as active designers and co-creators inspired to do your part; and 3) your ability to play in other realms through soul-travel. Unity Consciousness doesn't happen outside of you as something you DO, but as someone you ARE. Come play!
